sought from the candidates along with the copies of documents regarding academic qualifications, category, experience etc. who were declared successful for interview or finally selected in case recruitment was done through written examinations only. The detailed forms were submitted by candidates by post which used to take at least one month to reach to the concerning section. This was followed by tedious and time consuming process of scrutiny of application forms. Thereafter, interviews were conducted and recommendations were sent to government.

8.4 To reduce the time lag between declaration of results & recommendation, the Commission initiated process of counseling in which candidates are invited personally with their documents. Teams of employees of the Commission and concerned department for which recruitment is being done, are constituted for counseling. These teams simultaneously check, scrutinize and verify documents with original documents in presence of candidate himself. All ambiguity regarding qualification, category, experience etc. can be resolved on the spot.
